Marnee's Cookies fires up the ovens for 'Cookie Drop' and wants your help

Memorial Day is coming up, so Marnee's Cookies is rallying the troops for "Operation Cookie Drop."

The bakery wants to send a flotilla of cookies to soldiers in Iraq and Afghanistan, and it's asking for the public's help.

People who would like to bake their own cookies for the troops can hand-carry or ship their homemade treats to Marnee's Cookie Bistro, 23 Elm St., from May 27 through June 2 for packing and shipping.

Not so good in the kitchen? Then show up on those same days between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. to help pack cookies. The goodies will be shipped the first week in June.

Marnee's will also ship cookies direct to your favorite soldier at a 20 percent discount when you order from the website and use the promo code CD2010.

Donations toward "Operation Cookie Drop" are welcome.
